NEWSLETTER 5

Thank you to all members and friends who donated time and effort to our hosted events during Jumpers and Jazz 2021. Soup Night, The Club House Gallery and the Markets were well attended and could not have happened without the coordination of Rob C, Sue C, Penny K and Cathy H and everyone who helped in any way.

Soup night has grown to be a big drawcard to the club with almost 400 bowls sold, tasty soup served, enjoyable entertainment and top-notch mead made for a successful night that continues to bring visitors back year after year.

The club house Gallery saw an influx of visitors throughout the festival. There were a number of sales for members so there may be some spaces to fill with new works. Thanks to Pat for organizing the raffle. Brisbane visitor Narelle Bukala won the prize – A collection of pieces donated by club members.

Market in the Park became Market on the Street at the last minute due to the park grounds being too soggy to use but with much behind the scene scrambling by coordinators and a wonderful donation by Jill Brockman we were able to have the street closed and continue with the iconic event.

Event Debrief Meeting was well attended as we discussed the some of the best moments of the three events and some of the struggles and how we could do things a little different. The biggest thing to improve was communication. These events showcase the club and continue to be highlights of the year.

Enjoy your club facilities and keep potting.
Regards Leah Kelly

Pit Firing was hosted by Penny and Andy and was well attended. Penny has supplied some photos for the newsletter. Fun was had by all and they look forward to next one. Newbies are very welcome as it's another process enjoyed by potters everywhere. All photos will be in our new Facebook group.

Members who are on Facebook we now have a private group attached to our page that will be used to post reminders, community events and other items of interest for members and a place for members to share what they are doing. It is a private group and only current members will be granted access.
