FEATURE POTTER - GABRIELLE POWELL

Gabrielle is a mad pottery lover, a potters partner and a pottery teacher who lives in the bush.and has flowers, nature, animals, birds and the views !!

Gabrielle Powell is a passionate teacher, ceramicist and basket maker within the community arts region of Cobargo NSW.

Gabrielle and Daniel Lafferty run the Bandicoot Pottery Studio in Cobargo. The Bandicoot Pottery Studio was founded in 1990 by both of them. Their facilities now includes a large training room, pottery wheels and hand building space and an undercover kiln.

Gabrielle's plans earlier on were to take off around Australia, but after a car accident she turned her thoughts toward starting at an art school with a major in ceramics.

Now with 40 years experience in pottery, graduating from Canberra School of Art with a BA in Visual Arts in the mid 1980's, Gabrielle launched straight into clay with an arts residency at the Meat Market Craft Centre in Melbourne, taught pottery in isolated Aboriginal communities throughout Australia and painted a 2,000 ceramic tile planetary mural at Giralong Primary School in Canberra.

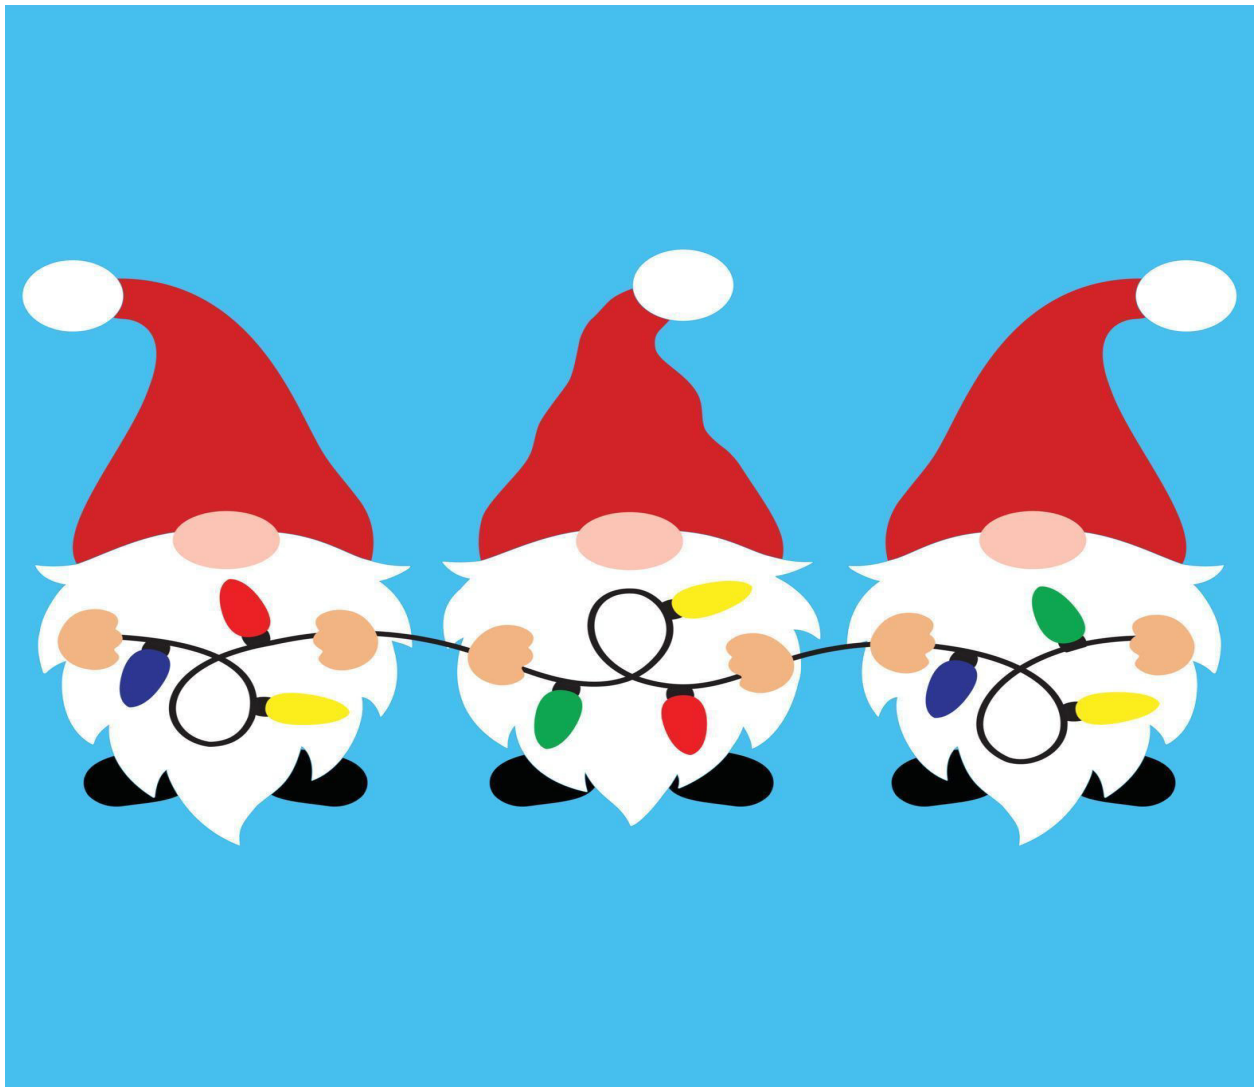

As Gabrielle was keen to establish a studio with her partner Daniel they moved to the South Coast and formed Bandicotte Pottery. They worked together for many years - Daniel throwing pots and herself decorating them. Gabrielle is an active member of the Spiral Gallery Arts Cooperative and the Lazy Lizard Gallery, where she creates simple, geometric=patterned wares for exhibitions.
